Something in a Name

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 2[illegible] Registrar Kaplan has notified Robert Desty, state senator elect from San Francisco and San Mateo counties, to appear and show cause why his name should not be stricken from the Great Register. Desty registered previous to the last election under the name of Robert Desty, making affidavit that he had lost his naturalization papers. This sworn affidavit for registration states that he was naturalized in 1849 in New York City, in the court of common pleas or superior court; that his certificate of naturalization was lost in 1850; that he has resided in this country 39 years and in this state 29 years. Kaplan wrote to New York and received an answer that there was no such name on the court of records in that city. Desty now claims that he did not naturalize under the name of Desty but under that of Robert Dafflebout Destimanville De Bean Monchel which he contracted for convenience into Robert Desty

THE WASHINGTON LEGISLATURE.

[SPECIAL REPORT FOR THE OREGONIAN.]

OLYMPIA Oct 22 1879

The most important work of the legislature to day was the passage in the house of the bill establishing and conferring power upon the district courts in the first and second districts. It is probable it will be somewhat amended in the council. Upon its final passage I will give a full description as it creates new and alters the time of holding terms in nearly all our courts

Council.

BILLS PASSED

H B No 3[illegible], an act repealing an act for the protection of stock raisers in the counties of Clallam and Jefferson

C B No 11 amending section 802 chapter 81 of an act entitled an act to regulate the practice and proceedings in civil actions

H B No 31 an act in relation to acknowledgment of deeds and mortgages and other instruments in writing taken in foreign countries beyond the limits of the United States

This act passed after animated discussion, the members conceding the hardship of the case at bar (there being no law allowing divorce upon the plea of insanity in our territory) but contending against the precedent. It is considered certain that Governor Ferry will veto the bill as he is an able lawyer and doubts the legality of such a bill passed by a territorial legislature. The vote stood

THE WHITNEY CASE

We have the following note from Salem. It will be seen that one grand juror was "convinced" and went back just in time to save Whitney, who is described as being restored at his escape

As stated in THE OREGONIAN a few days since [illegible] it was made in the circuit court of the third judicial district to indict J J Whitney, prosecuting attorney for that district. The grand jury received special instructions from the bench to investigate fully the charges against him of violation of his oath of office and Hon Geo H B [illegible] was appointed attorney to prosecute the case. The grand jury on Wednesday evening stood [illegible] in favor of presentation and Mr Burnett was instructed to draw up the indictment. During the night however [illegible] the scheme [illegible] the intelligent juror and morning [illegible] witnesses [illegible] [illegible] and the [illegible] of returning it as a true bill. These figures [illegible] all [illegible] singularly with the political [illegible] of the jurors [illegible] and party lines were [illegible] drawn. Whitney and his friends [illegible] greatly [illegible] [illegible] the fact [illegible]

Judge Bonham [illegible] overruled the motion to strike [illegible] the [illegible] case of [illegible] [illegible] trouble will ensue

Leadville is the Place.

From the New Orleans Times

Leadville is pre eminently the place to turn an honest penny. A barefooted American, poor but proud, who went there only last spring went east a few days ago wearing a diamond pin, a very red nose and riding in a palace rail road car. All that is needed to make money in Leadville is a brass band, lay out several packs of advantage cards and an assorted lot of loaded dice

OUR INDIAN WARS

The Ute Outbreak—An Account of the Indians Killed in the Modoc War

[illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The recent trouble with the Ute Indians [illegible] the [illegible] manner in which the government [illegible] Indian question

It almost invariably happens that in the first encounter with the savages the troops are defeated with loss of men and officers

This is as a general thing owing to the fact that there are not men enough to send after the Indians and at the same time leave a sufficient number to garrison the post and protect the property left behind. The Modoc war, the Sioux war, the war with Joseph and this one with the Utes prove this

Had Major Jackson possessed a sufficient number of men [illegible] the Modocs would have been taken at Lost river and the bloody war which followed would never have occurred

The Indian feels perfectly safe when he takes up arms to fight the soldiers, as he knows that he is safely hidden behind rocks whilst the whites have to advance to the attack. This causes a loss on the part of the whites which is out of all proportion to the loss of the Indians

Custer had 300 killed by the Indians, and it is probable that Joseph killed four or five times as many as he lost

I have in my possession a list of the Modocs who were killed by the commands of General Wheaton and General Gillem, and also those killed at Lost river on the 29th of Nov 1872 by Jackson's command. This list has never been published, and as a matter of interest I will give it. It is reliable as it was procured by me from the Indians after they surrendered

At Lost river there were two men killed and four wounded. At the same time a girl twelve and a baby a few months old were killed by the Oregon settlers. The father of the babe, Long Jim, was afterwards indicted by the Jackson county grand jury for killing Monroe the same day

Black Jim, half brother to Jack, was shot through the body and having been present when General Canby was assassinated was hanged at Fort Klamath

An Indian was wounded in December and when the stronghold was captured in April he was found and killed by the Warm Spring Indians. One was killed near Applegate's ranch in January

When the stronghold was captured after three days fighting, two men were found dead from the effects of a shell which one had taken up. Two old men and two women were also found dead. The women were shot accidentally. Not an Indian was shot by a musket in the general engagements

On the 26th of April, when Major Thomas and four other officers were killed and the surgeon wounded besides 18 men killed outright but one Indian was killed and that was after the fight was over. One was wounded in the hand

At Dry or "Sorass" Lake one man was killed by Hasbrouck's command, and he was the one who gave General Canby the fatal wound. His name was George, or Ellen's man. At Fairchilds ranch the Warm Spring Indians killed two women. Four prisoners were killed by Oregon volunteers whilst on the road from Fairchilds to Gen Davis' headquarters at Tule Lake. It is due to the volunteers to say that only a few of them were engaged in this cowardly murder

The whole list comprises 11 men killed, 6 wounded, 4 women killed, 1 wounded, 2 girls killed

The whites including soldiers and settlers lost nearly 100 killed in battle including those who died from the effects of their wounds.

THE INSOLVENT "CONTINENTAL LIFE"

Failed Life Companies and Policy Holders—All to Share Equally—No Preference Allowed.

Quite a large number of persons in Oregon and Washington hold policies in the insolvent Continental life insurance company. All these will be interested in the following statement which is taken from the New York Commercial Bulletin of Oct 4

Receiver O'Neill of the Continental Life has made application to the supreme court for permission to pay a dividend of 15 per cent on all claims which have been adjudicated by the referee to be valid against the company. Up to the date fixed as a limit for their reception 20,000 claims were presented to the receiver amounting in the aggregate to about $6,000,000, computing them at the reserve value only. Of these 17,500 have been examined and 15,300 amounting in the aggregate to $30,000,000 in face value and $4,500,000 in reserve value have been declared valid against the company. Twenty five hundred have been disputed on various grounds and are now in litigation before the referee. There are also many other litigations pending in various courts upon other claims against the company involving some $300,000 the majority of which the receiver thinks can be successfully resisted. Mr O'Neill has on hand as the result of conversion of the available assets of the company $1[illegible] 000 in United States bonds and similar securities and $61,729 30 in money besides $1,100,000 of premium notes loans and obligations upon policies and $200,000 of due and deferred premiums which are available as an offset to the reserved value of the policies upon which they constitute an indebtedness. He also holds the building Nos 20, 2[illegible], 24 and 26 Nassau street which brings in a net rent of 5 per cent on its appraised value ($3[illegible]000) and also furnishes an office for the business of the receivership and a large quantity of real estate bid in from time to time at foreclosures which is continually increasing in value, and $183,150 in bonds and mortgages now under foreclosure besides $136,[illegible] in mortgages now paying interest. There is also in the hands of the superintendent of insurance $120,000 belonging to the company. These unconverted assets will in the receiver's opinion furnish sufficient funds to enable him to declare a dividend of 15 per cent on all claims that may be adjudicated hereafter. The court is to be asked to permit payments to be made directly to counsel intervening representing claimants instead of to each individually on the ground that that course will save a great deal of inconvenience, labor and expense. The classes of claims are as follows: First, [illegible] upon the lives of persons who died prior to Oct [illegible] 1876, the date on which the company ceased business, at their face value with interest from [illegible] days after the receipt of proof of death until Oct 25 1876; next, claims on policies upon the lives of persons who died after Oct 25 1876 during the period for which premiums had been paid upon such policies and prior to June 16 1878, the date of the limit for the presentation of claims at their face value less interest from Oct 25 1876 until 30 days after the receipt of proofs of death by the receiver; next claims on all policies upon persons now living at their reserve value to be calculated according to the American experience tables of mortality at 4½ per cent interest per annum; next, paid up annuities issued by the company. These are held to have been creditors for the face value of their annuities on Oct 25 1876 computed according to the Northampton tables with interest at [illegible] per cent. Lastly all policy holders together with the other creditors of the company whose claims have been or shall hereafter be allowed are to share equally in the distribution of the assets except that the amounts due on any policies for deferred premiums, premium notes or loans are first to be deducted from the reserve value of such policies and the dividend is only to be paid upon the remainder of such reserve value

Receiver O'Neill says that his delay in declaring a dividend has been caused by the doubts existing as to the extent to which death claims and annuities should be allowed a preference over the ordinary creditors of the corporation. These doubts were removed for the first time by the court of appeals in the decision of the [illegible] case in September last

The decision of the court is that when a company by becoming insolvent makes it impossible for the insured to pay further premiums it breaks its engagements with the insured and leaves them in the position of claimants for damages, that they are creditors for the present value of their policies, that all premium notes and credits are offsets against such values, that unmatured paid up policies stand on no different [illegible] [illegible] from other unmatured policies, that annuitants are entitled to receive the present value [illegible] [illegible] in this end that holders [illegible] death claims matured before failure of the company have no claim for preference. "The fact that one claim is matured gives it no preference over others not matured. There is nothing in the nature of the insurance that gives the preference. One who has paid his money to carry his policy to maturity has no better right or greater equity than another who has paid money to carry a policy toward maturity"

GRANT AT SACRAMENTO

IMMENSE CONCOURSE OF PEOPLE AND GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Twelve Thousand People on the Streets—Grand Procession through the City

Reception at the State House—Brilliant Illuminations—A Hand Shake with Nine Thousand People

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

SACRAMENTO Oct [illegible] General Grant and Mrs Grant attended by the members of the Sacramento reception committee left San Francisco on the Vallejo boat a few minutes before the regular time. At Vallejo the party was met by [illegible] and escorted to Mare island where the general inspected the works. [illegible] the party [illegible] Vallejo where they were [illegible] At [illegible] boarded the train for Sacramento. At all the stations [illegible] crowds of people flocked to greet the general. The train arrived at Sacramento at 4 P M and as it moved into the depot it was met by a vast concourse of people [illegible] densely [illegible] largely filling Front street from K to I, while [illegible] divisions of a procession on [illegible] and parts of [illegible] and H streets and extended into Second street. The arrival of the party was announced by a salute by the Sacramento light battery. The people replied loudly cheering. The train was run through the depot to a point midway between J and K streets and General Grant left the car and was met by Gov Irwin and Mayor Turner and escorted to the carriage appointed for him. Mrs Grant and escort next alighted and were conducted to carriages. The divisions fell into line promptly and the march was taken up. As the carriages moved the people cheered and then fell back upon the walks, the mass of them pouring up J and K in advance of the line. A fair estimate of the people on Front from K to J street just prior to the beginning of the march places it at 2,000.

The procession being formed, moved out of Front street to K, up K to Tenth, up Tenth to J, from J to Eleventh, from Eleventh to H, up H to Ninth, up Ninth to K, countermarch on J to Sixth, to M, to Tenth. At this point the general and party alighted and passing through ranks of 3000 school children formed to receive him ascended the grand stand in front of the main entrance to the capitol. The procession then marched to N, up N to the entrance and then passing the stand in review after them following the children of the schools. The platform was crowded with distinguished citizens of the state gathered from all towns and cities around Sacramento. When the procession had finally passed, Hon H H Egerton delivered an address of welcome.

General Grant replied as follows

If I was ever accustomed to speaking it would be impossible for me to respond to the welcome which I have just received as modesty would not allow me to say what I should like to. With all my heart I thank you and I thank the citizens of Sacramento and of California for the welcome I have received at every place that I have been since my arrival on your coast. I have traveled some on this coast and in every place where I have been I have met with the same hearty reception. I can repeat to you what I have said in other places that of all hospitalities bestowed, all honors conferred there is nothing that has been so grateful to my heart as the receptions I have received at the hands of the people here. I would not say what has been done abroad. It has been all that could be done for a mortal, but it was not for me. It has been for the people I see before me—for the people of the great country that is recognized abroad as one of the greatest countries of the world. If we all every one of us could see other countries as I have seen them we would all make better citizens or at least the average of citizens would be better. It is impossible for me to say more but I thank you again.

At the conclusion of his remarks the general and party were conducted to the Golden Eagle Hotel where they dined in company with a number of invited guests

The demonstration this evening surpassed in enthusiasm and in number present and in the successful carrying out of the programme the display during the day. Nothing was contemplated beyond a reception by General and Mrs Grant, of citizens of Sacramento and vicinity, the former receiving in the assembly and the latter in the senate chamber. Long before the hour for the reception arrived the capitol grounds were packed with people, not less than 20,000 being present. The capitol was brilliantly illuminated and the grounds were lit up with Chinese lanterns and calcium lights. At 8 o'clock Gen Grant left the Golden Eagle Hotel, the route to the capitol being lighted up with Bengolas colored lights and fire works. Arrived at the main entrance, the way was so packed with people that ingress was impossible and the party giving up the attempt passed around to a side entrance and gained access to the building. A brilliant display of fireworks was made as the general reached the capitol, consisting of an immense bust of Grant 20 feet high, flanked by columns supporting American eagles, and globes representing his tour around the world. Spanning the grand entrance was a large arch bearing the word "welcome" formed by 500 gas burners in letters four feet long

After Gen Grant had viewed the display from one of the windows for a time he took a position in the assembly chamber in front of the speaker's desk attended by Governor Irwin and other gentlemen

Mrs Grant, supported by several ladies, was seated in the senate chamber. The great doors of the capitol were then thrown open, and the crowd passing up the stairs filed by the general paying their respects and going out proceeded in a like manner to the senate chamber where they paid their respects to Mrs Grant. Over 9000 people passed through the assembly chamber while more than half those visiting the capitol left without even getting inside. The programme for to-morrow includes a barbecue by veteran soldiers, military review and a dinner to Grant by Senator Booth

ANOTHER BUSY DAY.

Reception by Pioneers and their Families—Greeting by School Children—Elected a Member of the California Pioneer Association

ANOTHER SPEECH

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 23 —A dispatch from Sacramento says that to-day was another busy day for Grant. At 10 o'clock the executive committee escorted the general and a number of invited guests to the Grammar school building at the corner of 13th and I streets to meet veteran soldiers and sailors with their families. On the arrival of Grant he was formally introduced to them, passing round the room and familiarly addressing and shaking hands with all the veterans to the number of about 100, who were seated on a platform while the children from all the rooms in the building filed in and sang America, remaining on their feet while the general and party left. From there the party were driven to all points of interest about the city. At the Golden Eagle hotel Grant took lunch with the committee and invited guests. After lunch the party proceeded to Pioneer hall, where the general was formally presented with a certificate of membership in the Sacramento Society of Pioneers by N Greene Curtis, a member of the association. Gen Grant then took the certificate and holding it in his hand spoke as follows:

[illegible] I am happy to be [illegible] a member of your society. I have been elected an honorary member of the Pioneer Association of San Francisco, but am [illegible] greatly pleased to become a member of the Sacramento Association of California [illegible]. I had thought that I was entitled to [illegible] membership in the pioneer association [illegible] having fought in the war which made California [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] seekers [illegible] take that as [illegible] [illegible] place on your roll. I am proud of California and appreciate to the fullest extent my recognition in your state and I feel very grateful for the honor accorded me in electing me a member of your society. I have heard of California everywhere in my travels abroad and met many citizens of your state everywhere I have been. I have never yet heard a Californian speak in aught but praise [illegible] worthy terms of [illegible] [illegible] Again gentlemen [illegible] thank you for the honor conferred upon me

At the conclusion of his remarks Miss [illegible] A Prentice, daughter of a member, stepped forward and pinned on the lappel of his coat a badge of the association. The pioneers and other families then formed in single file and were presented by name to Grant, each receiving a hearty shake of the hand and complimentary remarks being exchanged with those who spoke to him. From Pioneer Hall the party was conducted in carriages to Agricultural Park to witness a military review and sham battle. Gen Grant was placed in the judge's seat on the grand stand from where he viewed the evolutions of the military, conversing freely and familiarly all the time with members of the party. A very large crowd of people were present during [illegible] Grant has entered into the [illegible] of the [illegible] as but and enjoyed with a zest [illegible] the hospitalities shown him

For a moment he was thunder struck when it gradually flashed through his mind that the bottom of his well had fallen out. Upon examination such proved to be the case. It is barely possible that this strange action of nature will bring to light another Mammoth Cave. At all events the bottom of the well is out and Mr Thompson will not undertake to repair it

FROM PORTLAND TO THE SEA.

EFFORTS TO OPEN A SAFE AND EASY SHIP CHANNEL.

Work Commenced on a Dam at the Head of Willamette Slough Which will Force the Waters of the Willamette Through their Natural Course.

The value of a free open ship channel from Portland to the sea cannot be estimated. It is not second, even in urgency and importance to direct connection by railroad with the eastern states. Upon the broad bosom of the Columbia must be borne the principal products of an area of 200,000 square miles of rich territory—an empire equal to the combined areas of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois—or those products are less valuable by half. To open this channel and afford to full freighted vessels of the largest class a safe and easy passage at all seasons between the ocean and Portland has been an object well worthy the efforts of the highest engineering skill

Plans for this improvement, estimated to cost $300,000, from Portland to the ocean were adopted some months ago by the U S board of engineers for the Pacific coast, and the practical work of carrying them into effect has just commenced. Starting from Portland the first point requiring improvement is at Swan island three miles below the city where it is proposed by building a dam across the channel west of that island to direct the entire volume of the river through the present narrow ship channel on the east side. It is thought that the additional current force thus obtained will permanently clear out the bar which has always been an annoying obstruction to navigation. This point has been passed for the present however

The next point of obstruction is Postoffice bar at the head of Sauvies island, 9 miles below Portland, extending in a series of shoals to the main mouth of the Willamette three miles further down. These bars are formed by sediment from the Columbia river thrown up during the annual flood, when its back flow meets the natural current of the Willamette. These currents uniting find outlet through the Willamette slough, the volume of water flowing through that channel being greater by one seventh than that of the Willamette at Portland. It is proposed to shut off this course and force the waters of the Willamette to flow through their natural and original channel which will scour out the bars and shoals mentioned above and at all times keep the channel clear and deep. The benefit of this plan would be more certain if the head of the Willamette slough were entirely closed but this it is deemed would be a serious hardship to an important section bordering upon that water course which is navigable at all seasons and in consideration of public rights a steamboat passage will be left in the proposed dam. The work of building the dam commenced on Monday and an OREGONIAN reporter visiting the scene yesterday found it in active progress. The point selected is about one fourth of a mile below the head of the slough where the distance from shore to shore is eight hundred feet. The dam will extend three hundred and fifty feet from each shore, a gap of one hundred feet in the middle being left for river boat passage. It will be ten feet wide and the sides will be formed of piles deeply driven without intervals and the intervening spaces with fascines of brush heavily weighted with rock. The upper side of the dam will be protected with similar material and the piles will be firmly bound with iron rods. The height of the dam will be two feet above low water mark

Besides the direct benefit of this improvement upon the channel at the mouth of the Willamette it is thought that it will deepen and perhaps entirely clear the channel opposite St. Helens where a bad bar is formed by counter currents of the Columbia and of the slough which joins the Columbia at that point. If the result fulfills these anticipations great good will have been accomplished. The work will be crowded in every way and will probably be completed early in December

OUR MILITIA SYSTEM

Gen Benet, Chief of Ordnance, U S A, Recommends a More General and Improved Militia Organization

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON Oct 24—Gen S V Benet chief of ordnance of the U S army has completed his annual report The total amount of expenditures during the year was $1 443-998 dollars General Benet devotes a large portion of his report to the subject of militia He says that for many years there has been a growing feeling throughout the country in favor of the reorganization of our militia system To perfect our present organization or to improve it by alteration requires an act of congress That congress has full power to provide for organizing militia in time of peace under the provisions of the constitution there can be no doubt and congress has exercised this power in obsolete and meager laws on our statute books but there has been no practical means provided for enforcing obedience to these laws It seems to me that the time has come when the question of raising arming equipping disciplining and keeping in readiness for service a part of our militia should receive the thoughtful attention of congress That a portion of the militia should in a sense be mobilized requires no argument and the active portion should be distributed equally throughout the country according to the population by establishing the principle by legal enactment that congress shall help only those who help themselves and providing that arms and equipments will not be issued to a state except in proportion to its properly enrolled and organized active militia and that a per diem for camp services shall be paid to those individuals only who are present in camp and only for days that they are present and actually employed States and people may be brought to a realizing sense of the necessity for prompt and permanent action in a matter so vital to the military power of the nation The general government under a law of 1808 now supplies arms and equipments to the militia of the states and there is no reason why the issue should not be made dependent on acts to be performed by the states such as the organization and discipline of a certain portion of militia

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC

Progress of the Work Recently Commenced in Eastern Washington Eight and a Half Miles Graded—The First Cargo of Iron [illegible] Portland

[illegible] was [illegible] vigorously the progress [illegible] considerable [illegible] the entry [illegible] [illegible] last week prepared [illegible] A [illegible] at last week [illegible] Walla Walla [illegible] world [illegible]

The barkentine Melancthon with 3 0 tons of rails sufficient to lay three miles and a half of track arrived at this port on Thursday and as soon as her cargo can be unloaded a work now in progress it will be shipped to Ainsworth Another vessel with the same amount of iron is now due and others are en route to arrive soon Their cargoes will be forwarded promptly and track laying will commence shortly The weather in the section where grading is now going on is clear and cold during the winter and will not interfere with active work

The town of Ainsworth is situated on the east bank of the Columbia and on the north bank of the Snake at its intersection with that river just eleven miles north of Wallula It is composed of a store run by Messrs Wynn W Sprague and W A Fairweather who are well known in Portland a saw mill hotel and a few dwellings It will be a point of importance during the time the road is building at least

The prospective benefits of the great enterprise are already attracting a large settlement of thrifty people Thousands of acres of first class wheat land between Ainsworth and the Spokan country directly on the line of the road, are vacant, but are rapidly being taken up In five years probably no agricultural section of the northwest will be richer than those now vacant plains

NORTH AND SOUTH.

Some Very Significant Comparative Figures—The Farce of "Elections" in the South

The total vote in 1878 for members of the house of representatives in twenty two democratic districts in half a dozen southern states was 1 0 038 The total vote in the same number of republican districts in half a dozen northern states was 746 7 5 All the twenty two southern districts sent up confederate brigadiers The difference in the vote of the two sections is due mainly to the fact that in the north there are free elections while in the south a majority of the lawful votes is suppressed by various forms of fraud and violence not omitting murder

To come to particulars take the fourth Alabama district In 1874 the republicans polled for congress 23 900 votes but in 1878 a confederate brigadier was elected to the house by a vote of 8 014 in an aggregate poll of 13 3 3 What had become of the republican vote of 1874?

In the first Alabama district in 1874 the republicans polled for congress 19 501 votes but in 1878 a confederate colonel was elected to the house by a vote of only 6575 in a total vote of 9 516 What had become of the republican vote of 1874?

In the second Alabama district in 1874 the republicans polled 19 124 votes but in 1878 a confederate colonel was elected to the house by a vote of only 8364 in a total poll of 11 869 What had become of the republican vote of 1874?

In the sixth Mississippi district even in 1876 the republicans polled 12 386 votes but in 1878 a confederate brigadier was elected to the house by a vote of only 6063 in a total poll of 8051 What had become of the republican vote of 1876?

In the ninth North Carolina district, in 1874 the republicans polled 6887 votes but in 1878 a confederate brigadier was elected to the house by a vote of only 2894 What had become of the republican vote of 1874?

In the third Georgia district in 1874 the republicans polled 4199 votes but in 1878 a confederate brigadier was elected to the house by a vote of only 2628 What had become of the republican vote of 1874?

And so on throughout the confederacy What has become of the republican vote? Suppressed by the Ku Klux and the White League through the shotgun, the pistol and the rifle in terrorism fraud and blood

No More Democratic Presidents Forever!

[Memphis Avalanche, Ind Dem]

Southern democratic leaders are beginning to realize the fruits of their folly in welding a solid south for the democratic party For four years the crack of the Mississippi shotgun in defense of democratic principles has been heard without protest No protest to this barbarous method of enforcing a political dogma has ever been breathed by any prominent Mississippi democrat No compunctions of conscience ever visited the Lamars the Singletons the Hookers and Barksdales, until they discovered that a south made solid by violence and fraud had made a solid north for the republican party A solid north bids the southern democratic leaders pause But it is too late The solid north has been made and James Buchanan will still remain the last democratic president for all time

A Few Simple Questions.

[From the Chicago Tribune

Northern men with southern principles like the editor of the New York Nation are respectfully invited to consider these three questions 1 Do the negroes of the south have any constitutional rights? 2 Can they exercise in full the rights guaranteed to them by the constitution and laws of the United States? 3 Should they be permitted to exercise those rights? An early answer will oblige. In the meantime the Nation will do well to forego its undoubted privilege of pointing out the hardships that the whites of the south are suffering from the extreme peril of permitting carpet baggers to appear in any community and the despicable character of the persons who have been murdered for political reasons in Yazoo and Kemper counties Mississippi

SELF-SUPPORTING PRISONS.

Up to six years ago the Wisconsin state penitentiary steadily ran behind from $[illegible] to $40,000 a year. It was under the direction of a commissioner or superintendent, as the penitentiary of Oregon has always been and appropriations were regularly made out of the state treasury, as Oregon has also done, to meet the annual deficit. Finally, however, the legislature abolished the office of superintendent and gave the charge into the hands of a board of directors appointed by the governor, who have brought the prison to a self-supporting basis, and even make it pay a profit into the treasury. It is managed on the method of leasing the prison labor, the only method yet devised of making a prison surely support itself. Oregon has on her hands a problem like that which Wisconsin has solved, and it must be solved in a similar way. As yet the effort to get satisfactory results out of the system of leasing prison labor has failed with us, in consequence of the limited market offered for such labor at the place where the penitentiary is situated. Were the prison situated at Portland the problem might be a much easier one. In some quarters there is a good deal of objection to the system of leasing prison labor, on the ground that it comes in competition with free labor, and is therefore a hardship to certain classes of mechanics and workingmen. But the produce of the labor of any prison bears so little proportion to that of the general industry of a state, that the competition is apparent rather than real, and is in fact actually nothing. On the other hand the gain to the taxpayers of a state from judicious and successful management of a prison on the system of leasing its labor, is positive and great. It should be a study for Oregon to put in force the system which Wisconsin and other states have so successfully employed. Indeed we need not go far for an example. Washington territory has placed her prison in charge of a contractor, and the consequence is that the convicts are securely kept and the territory is relieved of a positive burden. It is certainly a good deal better to manage a prison so that its labor will support it than to keep its inmates in idleness at the public expense, under the supposition, always largely erroneous, that when the most is made of prison labor, the free and honest labor of the country suffers by the competition.

LIEUT. FARROW'S SUCCESS.

Yesterday Lieut. Farrow, 21st infantry, reached Vancouver with his Indian prisoners, taken in the mountains of the Salmon river country. He has performed a service that merits highest praise. What he has accomplished required a rare degree of intelligence, intrepidity and endurance. It is the more remarkable from the fact that it was achieved by a small company of Indian scouts from Umatilla, and only half a dozen white men. In the mountains of Salmon river, deemed inaccessible to any military force, this band of Indians, now prisoners, long had their retreat. They were the terror of the neighboring country, upon which they made frequent descents, killing such persons as they encountered and committing depredations in the usual Indian style. Pursued, they retired to the mountains, and plans formed to destroy or take them were repeatedly foiled. About two months ago Lieut. Farrow started on his expedition, adopting different plans and methods from those hitherto employed. He followed no trails, but struck over the mountains in the direction where the hostiles would not look for approaching parties. Their camp was found deep in the recesses of the mountains, 130 miles southeast of Warren's, the famous mining camp of twenty years ago. A charge was made upon the hostile camp. The Indians scattered and fled, and four were made prisoners. A few days later after long night marches they were again attacked in another position, and all their horses and provisions [illegible]. A position was then taken which would force the Indians to make an attack or surrender. After some delay the latter course was taken. In an account of his campaign Lieut. Farrow attributes his success to his plan of not following the hostiles into a trap [illegible], but to await an attack from them, and then surprise and disconcert them by hard night marches. This officer has done a most creditable piece of work, and deserves the thanks of the country long infested by these Indians for having rid it of [illegible] murderous foes. We hope to see him further recognized in some suitable way both by the commander of the department and the general of the army.

TRUTHFUL WORDS.

Miss Rose Meeker, daughter of Agent Meeker who was murdered by the Utes at White river, Colorado, has written a letter in which she bitterly upbraids the government for its policy toward the Indians, through which valuable lives are sacrificed to romantic notions about civilizing savages. She justly says:

"The life of one common white man is worth more than all the Indians from the beginning of creation until the present time, and yet such a man as my father, with intellect and power to move the thoughts of men,—his life now ignominiously put out by the hand of a savage foe whose life or soul is not worthy of a dog, and no power in the land to stay the deed. What a magnanimous government we have to pamper a set of creatures whose existence should have been a thing of the past long ago."

Certain eastern journals have vehemently denounced these sentiments, seeing in them a passionate and inhuman cry for extermination of the Indians. And yet most persons who know by experience what Indians are, that is, such Indians as the Utes who have committed these atrocities in Colorado, or the Bannacks and Piutes who devastated a portion of Oregon last year, will see in Miss Meeker's words several truths very clearly and forcibly stated. All the Indians on the continent are not, never were, never will be, worth as much as one little settlement of civilized people in a remote valley of Oregon or Colorado; yet the policy of government pampers and coddles these worthless beings as if they were the salt of the earth, and does everything that can be done to support and propagate them and continue their noxious existence. A true civilization, which would take possession of country yet unoccupied and fill it with happy homes, is sacrificed to an experiment with savages which has always failed and always must. People of the east, who pay no attention to the wrongs and miseries of unfortunates of their own race whom they see everywhere about them, look with telescopic philanthrophy to the condition of the "poor Indian," who is usually only a ferocious animal, spurning the labors and rewards of civilization and rising in rebellion against the attempt to force them upon him.

The official count of the Ohio vote is published. The republican majority is not quite so large as first reported, but it is large enough. The vote of the state is the largest by many thousands ever thrown. It is 668,667, against 650,771 in the presidential election of 1876. The vote for Foster is 336,261, while that for Hayes in 1876 was 330,[illegible]. Ewing's vote is 310,132, against 323,182 for Tilden in '76. It will be seen that Foster has gained nearly 6000 on Hayes' vote while Ewing has fallen over 4000 below Tilden's. The greenback vote has shrunk to the small [illegible] and the prohibitionists polled only 4145. Foster has a clear majority over all.

The French engineer, M. de Lesseps, has appealed to the government of the United States of Colombia for the guarantee necessary for his canal scheme, but it is likely that capitalists in Europe will want better security than any South American government can give before they will risk money in such an undertaking. M. de Lesseps was drawn into the canal scheme by certain persons who represent nothing but their debts and their hopes of renewal of fortune through some lucky adventure, and his failure has left a cloud upon his formerly brilliant reputation for successful organization and great accomplishment.

In McKean county, Pa., 150,000 gallons of crude petroleum are said to daily run to waste. The tanks are full, and the production is 5,000 barrels a day more than can possibly be handled by the present appliances. The streams are literally rivers of oil, and the earth has absorbed such quantities of it in some places the ground is a mass of greasy mud several inches deep. In some places the oil is collected in ponds and burned, as the only way to get rid of it.

While addressing a public meeting in England, Sir Wilfrid Lawson, M. P., said that the Afghan war was not for the purpose of getting "a scientific frontier," but was "a stealing expedition," attended by "butchery and bribery," and now followed by a war of revenge.

IF YOUR THROAT FEELS SORE OR UNCOMFORTABLE use promptly Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 24, 1879.

THE NEW YORK CONTEST.

As everything relating to New York politics is of interest just now a glance at the situation in the state, as gathered from various reports to the New York Herald, will not be untimely. It is almost unnecessary to say that the Herald maintains its usual position of entire impartiality toward the contestants, criticising them all in their turn. John Kelly has been out on a stumping tour through the state. The first place he visited was Albany. At that city, according to the Herald's report, he had an enthusiastic reception. An immense crowd gathered in the evening to hear him speak. Erastus Corning, a noted democrat, was president and a list of 500 vice presidents and 300 secretaries was read. Kelly's speech was an arraignment of Tilden and Robinson, and every hit was received with applause. Many prominent democrats called on Kelly at his hotel and predicted for him in Albany county alone a vote of 7500, which is about half the usual democratic vote of the county. There has been for some years a marked division of the party in Albany into Tilden and anti-Tilden factions; and in other parts of the state, as Onondaga and Oswego counties, the division is still more marked. The Herald's reports say that the Kelly defection in Oswego "takes the bone and sinew of the party," and that in Onondaga it is "most formidable." The reason given is opposition to Tilden and his methods. It is confidently asserted that when the vote is taken Robinson will be a "bad third" in that part of the state; though there are sanguine democrats who expressed a hope of getting many of the bolters back before election. There has been much talk that many republicans would rebel against Conkling and Cornell and support Robinson, but the Herald's representatives report from different localities that they are entirely unable to find any of these promising signs of republican disaffection. At Troy there is a large anti-Tilden element in the democratic party which actively supports Kelly, and at Rochester the same thing is reported. It is evident from these statements, which have been gathered not for partisan objects but strictly as news, that the revolt against Tilden in New York will take away from his candidate a very large vote in the interior as well as in the city. Meantime the republicans have effected an unusually thorough organization in all parts of the state, and are working very earnestly to establish their claim to a majority over the combined votes of Tilden and Kelly democrats.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

The statement seems to be accepted as true that Col. Tom Scott during his recent trip to Europe succeeded in disposing of a large number of Texas and Pacific railroad bonds, and that work therefore on this southern transcontinental road will soon be resumed. The route of the road is from Shreveport, La., to Fort Worth, Texas, and from this latter point through New Mexico, Arizona and southern California to San Diego, the distance being stated at something over 1500 miles. The length of road now in operation is 445 miles, and the net earnings for the fiscal year lately closed were $738,830. At El Paso the road will obtain a large trade from the adjacent states of Mexico, and Col. Scott asserted that in five years after the completion of the road to El Paso it will build up a trade with Mexico which will more than equal in volume and importance the present through traffic from the Pacific coast to our eastern states.

The Canadian Pacific, as projected, is to extend from Ottawa to the Pacific coast, a distance of 2822 miles. It is now built from Ottawa to the mouth of the French river, 180 miles; from Fort Williams, on Superior, to Selkirk (404 miles), it is all built but 185 miles; from Winnepeg west 100 miles are under contract—giving 700 miles of road built or contracted for. From Winnipeg west for 100 miles the road is 60 to 80 miles from the boundary line. Though it is said so confidently that 125 miles will be built next year from the Pacific coast towards the east, that promise has been so often made and so often broken heretofore that it yet remains to be seen whether the work will now be actually undertaken.

On upper Snake river and Bear river great quantities of ties and timber are being got out for the Utah Northern, and it is believed that next spring construction will begin towards Boise. It is reported that some of the merchants, farmers and freighters of Idaho are opposed to the extension of railways through that territory because they would have an inevitable tendency to bring down the price of hay, now retailing at the rate of from two to four cents a pound, to diminish mercantile profits, and by immensely cutting down the cost of transportation, inflict a corresponding loss to the freighters, who now profit by extortionate charges. But opposition like this is common wherever railroads are projected. The few who profit by the existing condition of things want no change.

SEVERE LESSONS AND THEIR FRUIT.

In an article on "Cross-Cut Sparks," that is, on the tricks of mining stock operations as exhibited in the alleged "cross cut" developments in Sierra Nevada, the Sacramento Record-Union gives a history of the methods by which a mine with a quoted value of $5 a share in July, 1878, which gave it a total value of $500,000, was advanced within three months to $270 a share, or a total of $27,000,000; and how in a little time the whole thing collapsed, after ruining large numbers of unfortunate but credulous people,—the stock dropping from $270 in September to $38 by the close of the year. As burnt children dread the fire, so the recent attempt to get up another cross-cut boom in Sierra Nevada was almost a total failure. The sharpers failed to get the public to buy. Even gudgeons will learn in time not to snap at every bait. There is nothing more amazing than the fact that people in large numbers become at times so eager to invest great sums of money in schemes of which they can possibly know nothing, trusting the representations of those who are most interested. This speculation in mining stocks is believed to be the only kind of speculation upon which the public become so utterly insane as to be eager to put in enormous sums on reports of manipulators who alone have access to the sources of information, and who are managing it expressly to promote the purposes of the "boom,"—that is, to rob the public. It is time, indeed, that the public, who have been plucked so often, were getting wary, or at least acquiring common sense enough to see that they have no chance at all when they put money into schemes wholly controlled by others, on the representation of those whose interest and study it is to impose on public credulity, and who can make millions with every successful deal. How much money has been lost to Oregon through these operations in San Francisco cannot be told with any approach to accuracy, but the amount undoubtedly runs up into millions.

The public will be interested in the statement from E. M. Waite, Esq., secretary of state agricultural society, published to day. It is gratifying to be informed that the society is in so good a condition, notwithstanding all its disappointments and reverses. We have noticed ungenerous flings at the society from persons who have [illegible] and who ought to have gratitude enough to remember them as well as pride enough not to speak in disparagement of an institution in the success of which the credit of our state is more or less involved. Give the society a chance, and help it along by a good word to the public. It will yet recover from the misfortune of three successive rainy seasons at the time of its fair.

Gen. Grant in his speech at Astoria said: "I am well pleased to see [illegible] again in this [illegible] and to be received in such a kindly manner." All the eastern journals have it "kingly manner," the error having been made in telegraphing. Some fellow, probably, will set up a howl about that word "kingly." It may, indeed, make a whole school of small fry politicians unhappy for a month, for there is "a roar [illegible]" in that word, and we shall be told that Gen. Grant spoke what was running in his mind. We look now to be reminded that it may be necessary to set a new guard over our liberties, since the usurper has dropped a hint of what he intends.

Though the grand jury of Marion did not indict District Attorney Whitney, for reasons which may be divined by those who will read a statement from Salem concerning their action, published in another place, he is fully indicted by the public opinion of the state for his scandalous dereliction of duty. His career in every public capacity in this state is at an end. The people will remember the plunderers of the state and their abetters and defenders.

The public debt statements, issued monthly, are now rendered in a very intelligible shape. On the first of the present month the total debt was $2,027,202,452. The highest figure which the debt ever touched was in July, 1865, when the great burden amounted to $2,773,236,173. The amount of reduction in thirteen years has therefore been $746,033,721, while the annual interest has been reduced by $80,000,000.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 24, 1879.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.] WASHINGTON, Oct 24.—12:35 A. M.—For North Pacific coast regions, threatening weather and rain.

CITY.

THIEF CAUGHT.—The other night while Tom Nihen was visiting the joss house, in company with several other persons, to witness the rites and ceremonies being held there, he had the misfortune to have a valuable gold watch stolen. There was an immense jam in the building, and the theft was committed so dexterously that it was not discovered until some time after. Nihen left the house and on feeling for his watch, was greatly surprised to find it gone. The matter was given into the hands of Detective Hudson, who soon tracked the thief down, and recovered the stolen property. Wong Ying is the name of the culprit. He was arrested and taken to the city jail where he is confined at present. The case is continued until to-day, and as the grand jury is in session, the case will probably be referred to that body. Evidence of Wong Ying's guilt is most conclusive and his chances for doing the state good service are flattering.

BURGLARIZED.—From the Enterprise it is learned that a few days ago the house of Chas. A. Campbell of Milwaukie was broken into and robbed of a trunk during his absence to the town. Mr. C. lives near Judge Wait's. In the trunk was a good suit of clothes, a watch and chain, a shirt stud, eight or ten dollars in money, about two hundred dollars' worth of notes, and an accordion. After some difficulty the trunk was found, tracks having been discovered leading in its direction by Judge Wait. The thieves had evidently been interrupted in their search, as the money and notes were not taken, but the watch and chain, shirt stud and pocket knife were missing.

A BELLIGERENT LUNATIC.—The Hillsboro Independent says: "Snyder, a demented person, who was arrested several months ago near Springtown on charge of attempted [illegible], was adjudged insane and escorted to the asylum. During his examination before Judge Bellinger in circuit court the poor unfortunate divested himself of his coat, rolled up his sleeves and fain would have pitched into [illegible] had not a dozen bailiffs interposed their brawny arms. The judge was convinced of the man's insanity and had him dismissed from court."

CONSECRATION OF BISHOP JUNGER.—The consecration of Right Rev. Ægidius Junger, bishop of Nesqualy, will take place on next Sunday, 28th inst., in the cathedral of St. James and St. James, Vancouver. Most Rev. Francis Norbert Blanchet, D. D., archbishop of Oregon, will be the consecrator [illegible]. Duffy of Walla Walla will preach [illegible] occasion, and a large number of the clergy from this archdiocese and the diocese of Nesqualy will be present. The ceremonies will commence at 9 A. M.

[illegible] HILLSBORO.—The thriving little town of Hillsboro contains nine stores, two [illegible], three blacksmith shops, two saloons, a butcher shop, one carriage manufactory, a half dozen carpenter shops, two or three doctors, two dentists, one flour mill, [illegible] shops, post office, express office, two livery stables, four law offices, boot and shoe shops, a millinery establishment, a public school, a barber shop, a [illegible] depot buildings and a newspaper.

Lee [illegible], the talented elocutionist, will appear in a programme of dramatic sketches [illegible] from the great authors. The [illegible] will be interspersed with ex[illegible].

[illegible]—Miss Augusta L. Dargon was [illegible] "Queen Elizabeth" at Sydney, New [illegible] about the middle of September. [illegible] of that city are very enthusiastic [illegible] of the lady's performance, [illegible] her to Ristori in the character. [illegible] at least, Miss Dargon has [illegible] great success in the colonies.

[illegible] BOYS.—The Spokane Times [illegible] Daddy, one of the survey party [illegible] at work surveying toward Pen [illegible], cut his foot quite badly some [illegible] ago. He is able to be about. Al[illegible], topographer of the same [illegible] his ankle very badly, but is [illegible].

[illegible]—The following specials to [illegible] Exchange were received yesterday: Astoria, 9:30 A. M.—Steamer [illegible] arrived from Sitka at 9 A. M., and [illegible] immediately to Portland. The California arrived at her wharf at [illegible] evening.

[illegible] UP.—Several men were engaged [illegible] in cleaning out the charred rubbish [illegible] the second story of Shelby's brick [illegible] Front street. The upper part of [illegible] was occupied by the firm of [illegible] and was the scene of the r[illegible].

[illegible] BONANZA.—While the city surveyors [illegible] were working a few days since [illegible] vicinity of K and North Twenty-first [illegible] found two liberally filled hen's [illegible] daily report does not mention [illegible] was made of the eggs.

[illegible] GETTYSBURG.—Gen. O. O. Howard [illegible] his famous lecture "Battle [illegible]" in the M. E. church, Vancouver [illegible] evening, Oct. 24th, for the [illegible] Society of that church.

[illegible]—A large water main is being laid [illegible] Mill street to Eighth and down [illegible] for a long distance. The Water [illegible] have extended their mains in many [illegible] this season.

[illegible]—Sheriff Norden escorted two [illegible] to Salem yesterday, who are "unsound" to Superintendent Bush for [illegible] probably longer than is desirable to [illegible].

[illegible]—Chief Barry, of Astoria, [illegible] Wednesday evening having in [illegible] a man named Frank DeLucs, [illegible] committed to the asylum.

[illegible] COURT.—County court for Multnomah [illegible] convenes on Monday, Nov. 3d.

AMUSEMENTS.

[illegible] THEATER.—This evening Sardou's [illegible] play of "Frou Frou," with Miss Lillian [illegible] as the heroine, will be the attraction at [illegible]. From what we have seen of this [illegible] part which she ought to play well, [illegible] will dress it admirably there is no doubt. [illegible] performance will be given at the matinee [illegible]. Meanwhile great preparations are being made for H. M. S. Pinafore, which will be produced [illegible] the ensuing week. If Pinafore is [illegible] half the success here that it is in every [illegible] it is to be hoped in it the manager will [illegible] be put on the stage with a full [illegible] orchestra. "The ship Pinafore will be [illegible] by Mr. Ed. Deates, as well as the view of [illegible]. The costumes are being made to [illegible] nothing left undone to make it a grand [illegible].

C.

THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

FOURTH DAY.

Good Attendance Notwithstanding the Rain—The Fruit, Vegetable and Flower Display—General Notes.

The attendance yesterday afternoon was light but last night, contrary to the expectation of the managers who feared that the rain would keep many away, there was nearly as large a crowd as on Wednesday evening. Many persons were noticed who have attended on previous evenings, the well lighted, handsome pavilion, the art gallery, the flowers, the ladies' handiwork, the private exhibits, the music and the crowd itself being sufficient attraction to induce repeated visits. The numerous chairs around the railing of the gallery afford places of rest after sight-seeing, and at the same time gives one an opportunity of viewing the whole scene, of conversing with friends, near, and greeting those passing by.

The following is a partial description of some of the main exhibits not heretofore noticed.

BAYER & STAUCH

Show several Natural patent chimneys and chimney tops. These chimneys are a perfect security against fire and earthquake, and take up but little space in the walls.

DAYTON & HALL

Show a case filled with samples of shelf hardware from their stock, and a scroll saw in operation. This saw is worked by A. S. Gilfig, who is quite accomplished in the art of making frames and brackets, and shows several fine specimens of his work.

W. J. QUINN

Shows in the south gallery, a fine variety of merchant tailoring goods, in the piece and manufactured into garments. Particularly noticeable is a cutaway frock business suit of French plaid, elegantly trimmed and cut in the latest Paris style, which was made at the challenge of Mr. Rugg of the Tailor's Union. Another splendid piece of work, is a French basket business suit, trimmed with silk braid; another is an Oregon City heavy Scotch sack suit, made substantially, with double stitched edge, woven air. Mr. Quinn furnishes at $25. His exhibit of piece goods embraces French, Scotch and American cassimeres, French pique, fancy vestings, etc. Mr. Quinn is manufacturing at his store No. 28 Stark street a number of overcoats of latest styles, which will be placed in the pavilion in a few days. He also has a French fashion plate, just received from Paris, the only one in the state.

MELLIS BROS.,

Of the I X L store, show in the south gallery immense stock of dry goods, arrayed with good taste in pyramidal shape. There are bolts on bolts of muslins, dress goods, crash, linens and hundreds of corsets, handkerchiefs, hose and small shelf articles.

C. H. MEUSSDORFFER

Shows an upright case of silk, stiff and soft hats of his own manufacture and importation. They are only a few samples of his immense stock.

H. T. HUDSON

Shows a variety of seals, stamps, dies, door plates, stencils, monograms and a large monogram press.

THE CLACKAMAS PAPER CO.

Show a great variety of manila, news, book, writing and straw wrapping papers, pasteboard, card-board, carpet lining, twines and envelopes. Most of the exhibit is the production of the paper mills on the Clackamas river and speaks volumes for the enterprise and excellence of one of Oregon's great industries.

M'LERAN BROS.

Show samples of XXX and extra family flour, oatmeal, hominy, graham flour, buckwheat flour, rye flour, split peas, cracked wheat, etc. The products of McLeran's mills are favorably known in this city and over the North Pacific coast.

W. JACKSON & CO.

Yesterday added to the display on the main floor in the way of an upright case containing samples of new importations of French china received per last steamer. Some exceedingly handsome gold band and shaded and decorated goods are shown, also beautiful small tea sets, moustache cups, and cups and saucers of plain delicate colors.

Robbins and Yates' Display.

The exhibit of musical instruments by this well known house is the largest of any firm in the pavilion. They show thirteen Whitney and Holmes celebrated organs of various style cases, some styles entirely new and never before exhibited on this coast. Among numerous reed organs of the present day the Whitney and Holmes organ is a representative instrument. For sweetness and volume of tone, and delicacy of action, it has but few, if any, equals; and for quickness of speech it is without a rival. These qualities, with its fine solo attachments, render the Whitney and Holmes organ a most superior reed instrument for solo playing. The instrument is actually capable of articulating the most rapid rolls in piano music, and is as decidedly an instrument for playing instrumental music as it is an instrument for playing church music. The materials used in its construction, both internally and externally, are of the very best quality—no imitations of any kind being put in it. It is less liable to get out of order, and is destined to last longer, than any instrument of the kind that has ever been put in the market. In excellence of workmanship it is an honor to the manufacturers and will prove a good investment to the purchaser.

DECKER BROS.' PIANOS.

The firm also show a handsome Decker Bros' piano. It may not be out of place here to give the following hints to purchasers:

1. That a cheap piano will always prove to be a poor piano.

2. That there is more economy in buying a really first class instrument, at a reasonable figure, than in purchasing another merely because it is much cheaper.

3. The best work and the best material insure the best results, and, therefore, command the best price.

4. The foundation of a good pianist is a good instrument and a capable teacher. It is wrong to expect a child to progress if forced to practice on a rattle-trap, and, no matter how attractive its case, the cheap piano is sure to become a rattle-trap within a very short time.

5. Durability of tone and the power of standing in tune longer than any other piano made, are the characteristics of the Decker Bros' pianoforte.

6. A Decker Bros.' piano can never fail to prove a safe and profitable investment, for it's reputation, based on its matchless musical character and unrivaled durability, must always command for it a corresponding high price, it revolt, no matter how long it may have been in careful use.

MOULDINGS.

Robbins & Yates also show fifty varieties of mouldings in gold, gilt, walnut, walnut imitation, carved and plain. This exhibit of mouldings, however, shows only about one third of the styles which they keep in stock, the space allotted to them having been too small for a complete display. They also show a number of guitars, concertinas, violins, accordions, banjos and small musical instruments. No visitor to the pavilion should leave without having first thoroughly examined Robbins & Yates' exhibit.

Fruit and Vegetables.

The fair is not all mechanical, for several articles, by the great and wonderful producer, Nature, are among the most notable things to be seen in the pavilion. Among these is a display of fruits and vegetables by P. M. Rincarson, of Oregon City, which has not been beaten this year and which still bear blue ribbons as trophies of victory at the late state fair. The exhibit is in charge of Mr Greaves, and embraces 31 varieties of apples, many kinds of carrots, rutabagas, sugar beets, mangel wurzels and onions, pie melons and California squashes, etc. Here is found the boss squash of the season. It weighs 200 pounds.

Hon. A. E. Wait shows some varieties of choice potatoes, all of fine size and substance, fit for the table of an Irish lord.

G. W. Walling & Son, Oregon City, exhibit a splendid assortment of apples and pears, all of superior size and tempting to the palate. They also have a quantity of dried prunes and plums, which for purity and flavor are excellent.

Dr. McKinnell of this city, displays some of the largest and most luscious looking quinces we have ever seen in Oregon or elsewhere.

C. W. Bryant sets out a number of varieties of apples and potatoes beautiful to the eye and delicious to the taste.

H. W. Shipley, of Oswego, has grown some Australian artichokes and musquite grass which are transferred in pots to the pavilion and attract a good deal of attention. He also has some fine potatoes, apples and grapes on exhibition.

H. Hanson, of East Portland, exhibits some fine Japanese persimmons, chestnuts, potatoes and pears, as well as a large variety of choice garden seeds.

Dr. Barber, of this city, exhibits a very finely formed and large white potato.

F. H. Lambert, of Milwaukie, shows some of the finest apples, pears, plums and other fruits we have seen this year.

A lot of choice apples grown by Joseph Hamilton, of Linn county, is shown by Mrs. A. A. Clarke, to whom they were presented at the close of the state fair, where the blue ribbon was deservedly attached to many of the varieties.

C. F. Speck shows a lot of apples from Wasco county which demonstrate the fact that eastern Oregon can produce beautiful and luscious fruit and deserves to be annexed to the "land of big red apples."

Mr. C. P. Burkhart of Linn county adds much to the attractions by a display of 17 varieties of Oregon grown wheat, all very fine.

J. L. Atkinson shows some English walnuts grown in his garden in Portland and said to be the first brought to perfection in Oregon. He succeeded in bringing this about by planting the trees upon a pile of rocks according to the advice of an Englishman posted in such matters.

Mr. Henry Miller and Ehlen & Zeltner, nurserymen and florists, each exhibit large collections of flowers, evergreen trees, shrubs and green and hot house pots and flowers. These exhibits are placed in the center on the main floor and are really the most attractive objects in the pavilion, being more beautiful in design and more rare in color than the mind of man could conceive or his hand paint.

GENERAL NOTES

Alisky & Hegele placed on exhibition yesterday an exact model of the pavilion made from white candy. It is about five feet long and two and a half feet high, and is a triumph of the confectioner's art.

The Blacksmith's Dream, exhibited in a room adjoining the pavilion on the south, is a most wonderful and interesting piece of mechanism. It has forty moving figures at various occupations, a train of cars, a steamboat and several velocipedes—all in motion.

The Washington Guard Band played "Nancy Lee" last night for the special benefit, so the leader stated, of THE OREGONIAN reporters present. Thanks, gentlemen, thanks.

Mr. Geo. C. Silver, the engraver is at work at his profession in the West Shore office, and is watched with much interest by visitors.

A lot of pampas grass and some choice dahlias from the garden of E. B. Knapp of this city, add beauty to the fruit and flower section.

The following is the programme of the Washington Guard band for this evening:

1—Grand March—Crown.
2—Serenade—Schatter.
3—Galop—Roos.
4—Sweet Spirit hear my Prayer.

Physicians and Invalids use with confidence The Kaiser celebrated German Elixir for Consumption and throat and lung diseases. It is rich in the medical properties of tar, wild cherry etc. Is rendered perfectly harmless to the youngest child. Be sure you get only German Elixir. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the fac-simile signature of Dr. Kaiser. Samples at all drug stores. Large size 75 cents.

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES.

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox, government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report; that after ten years' of close investigation he can safely say that very few, if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines, that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm. Scheffler, or Geo. H. Beach, St. Helena, Napa county, Cal, will receive prompt attention.

Read and Learn for Yourself.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense in making them known to the people. This is not the case with Boschee's German Syrup. Although but a few years introduced into this country, its sale now reaches in every town and village in the United States. Its wonderful success in curing consumption, severe Coughs, Pneumonia, Asthma and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 400,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge by druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

DR. MINTIE'S "SPECIAL" MEDICINES

Are made from the best materials obtainable. They are not cure alls. They are favorite prescriptions that have been tried and tested for years in his extensive practice, until now they are absolutely perfect in the troubles for which they are recommended.

THE NEPHRETICUM works wonders in Kidney and Bladder complaints. Those suffering with Dropsy, Bright's disease, Diabetes, Gravel, Retention of urine, Pain in the back, Incontinence, or any disease of the Kidney and Bladder, will be astonished at the relief one bottle will afford.

For Female weakness it is absolutely without an equal.

For all derangements of the Liver,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Biliousness and Dyspepsia,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Fever and Ague,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

Every family should keep the Dandelion Pills on hand.

See what the druggists say about Dr. Mintie's medicines: "Everybody speaks highly of them"—G. H. Woodard & Co., druggists, Portland. "All who take them recommend them."—John A. Child, druggist, Portland. Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, San Francisco, say: "We regard Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder remedy before the public." All druggists keep these medicines.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER'S VITAL RESTORATIVE.

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

THE STATE FAIR.

SALEM, OGN, Oct 23, 1879.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

As the board of managers of the Oregon state agricultural society will not meet until the first Tuesday in December, and my report cannot be made public till that time, I have thought it best to say for the information of the society and the general public that the receipts of the fair of 1879 cover all amounts for premiums, expenses of fair, interest on mortgage debt for one year, interest on premium warrants for one year and all improvements for the year. The floating debt of $800 having been paid from the receipts of the fair, rendered it impossible to meet the premiums of 1879 without securing another loan. This could as easy have been effected as last year, but very many holders of warrants and the warmest friends of the society thought it best to adopt the course pursued. The society, in permanent improvements and financial outlook, was never in as good condition as to-day, and if fortune will give it half a chance it will finally triumph over all its reverses and misfortunes.

I cannot close this communication without thanking THE OREGONIAN for its manly and independent course towards the society and its officers.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—12:30 A. M.—For Pacific coast generally clear weather, except in Oregon light rains.

CITY.

SENTENCED.—Fred P. Jenkins, who was indicted by the grand jury for larceny in a dwelling, and who, on being arraigned in the circuit court a few days ago, entered a plea of guilty, was sentenced yesterday on this plea by Judge Bellinger. The sentence of the court was that Jenkins be confined in the penitentiary at hard labor for the period of two years. When asked by Judge Bellinger if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, Jenkins made quite a long statement confessing his guilt, and throwing himself entirely on the mercy of the court. The prisoner stated that he was a native of Wales, and aged about 50 years, and came up to Portland a short time since on the steamer. There were several friends who came up on the same steamer, and they all got to drinking on the passage, and when Portland was reached they were very drunk. He stated that his occupation was that of an engineer and machinist, and that he came to Oregon for the purpose of going to Coos Bay to look at the mines there. His companions started south the next day after they arrived here, and wanted him to accompany them. He refused to go with them on account of being on a spree, and thought he would sober up first. While drunk, he said he must have committed the crime, for he had no recollection of taking the clothing until after his arrest. He informed the court that he was the father of five children who were dependent upon him for a living. The statement was made in a simple, plain, and earnest manner. The somewhat whitened locks of the prisoner, his air of sorrowful contrition, and his tones shaken with emotion, completed a picture so sad that the spectators, and even the court, seemed deeply moved. Judge Bellinger gave him as light a sentence as he consistently could under the law.

MISS CHAUVIN AT THE UNITARIAN CHURCH.—Quite a goodly attendance were richly entertained by the readings and selections of this fine elocutionist. All were finely rendered. "Fra Giacomo," by Buchanan, with its quick and rapid transitions, exhibiting the wild and torrent-like expressions of the poem, was delivered with remarkable power and effect. The vocal and musical entertainment added greatly to the treat of the evening. A lady guest—Miss S Clarke—gave a vocal solo; Mr. Bullock, a tenor voice of range and richness of tone, and Mrs. [illegible] gave a beautiful duet. Altogether the affair reflects great credit on all the participants, and will, we think, prove quite satisfactory to the ladies' church fund, to which the proceeds go.

BOX OF TESTIMONY.—James A. Smith, county clerk, received by express a few days since a wooden box nearly two feet square, forwarded direct from San Francisco. This box and its contents weigh 118 pounds. It contains depositions in the case of John [illegible] vs. Orin Joynt et al, which issue involves the possession of some valuable real estate in Portland. The depositions were taken before Holland Smith of San Francisco, commissioner of deeds. As yet the box has not been opened, and Judge Bellinger will make an order concerning the case. It will take nearly one entire term of court to wade through such a voluminous mass of testimony.

BAPTIST CONVENTION AT BROWNSVILLE.—The Baptist churches of the northwest meet in annual convention at Brownsville on Thursday of next week. The day previous will be taken up with a ministers' meeting. The convention will continue in session over Sunday. The O. & C. R. R. Co., with their usual courtesy, will return delegates free of charge, on certificates issued by the secretary of the convention. Each Baptist church throughout the northwest is entitled to three delegates.

DISMISSED THE CASE.—A Chinese laundryman answering to the name of Sam Sing was arrested Thursday, he having refused to surrender to the rightful owner goods entrusted to him. The charge preferred against him was larceny by bailee. Sam Sing was brought before Justice Stearns for examination. Sam Sing made a compromise by paying the costs of the suit and returning the property claimed.

RECEIVER'S REPORT.—George Revett, who was appointed some time ago receiver for the Sheridan & Grand Ronde Railway company, filed his report in the United States circuit court yesterday. The report covers from the date of his appointment up to the 15th of October. From the report it appears that the profits of the road during his management are over $8000.

THE GRAND JURY.—The grand jury in state circuit court is still in session. Seventeen indictments have thus far been returned. There will probably be twenty true bills found at this term of court. Most of the cases have been investigated, although the jury will remain in session off and on for a week or two.

SICK.—An Independence (Polk county) paper says: Ray, the little son of [illegible] Cook, of Portland, has been quite ill with typhoid fever at the residence of Col. [illegible], where the family is visiting. From Dr. [illegible] Smith, the attending physician, we learn that the child is in a fair way to recover.

HELD TO ANSWER.—Wong Ying, the celestial who stole Tom Niben's watch at the Joss house several nights ago, had a preliminary examination before Judge Stearns yesterday afternoon. He was held to await the action of the grand jury, his bonds being fixed at $250; in default Wong Ying was committed.

NO MEETING.—There will be no Open Temperance meeting this Saturday evening, the new hall of the Y. M. C. A. not being ready for occupancy. The new hall will be completed in about a week. It is the intention of the association to hold a general temperance and religious reunion next Saturday.

ARRAIGNED.—Charles B. La Chat, the individual who, several months ago, made a most murderous attack with a cleaver, on a Mr. [illegible] at the Home restaurant on Washington street, was arraigned yesterday in the circuit court and was allowed until this morning to plead.

BETHEL SERVICES.—To-morrow at 2 P. M. there will be Bethel services on board the British ship [illegible]. This beautiful iron vessel—one of the largest class of ships visiting this port—lies at Smith's wharf, foot of [illegible] street. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

LARGE TRAIN.—The west side train came in yesterday on time. The locomotive was drawing one of the largest trains which ever came down Fourth street. There was a large number of freight cars loaded with wheat besides the passenger coaches.

STREET ATTENTION.—A correspondent sends the following note: The attention of the street superintendent is respectfully called to the beautiful sidewalk on the west side of [illegible] street, between Jefferson and Columbia.

APPOINTED.—Eugene D. White, Esq., has been appointed Deputy Grand Master Workman for the district of eastern Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, of the Order of A. O. U. W.

CRICKET.—The cricketers will play to-day on the grounds in South Portland. The wagon to carry the club to the ground will leave New Market Theater at 2 o'clock.

SECURED A POSITION.—Arthur Odeneal, son of Judge Odeneal, has secured a position in the surveyor general's office in this city, and has already entered upon his duties.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Oregon arrived from San Francisco yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. She was 46 hours from bar to bar, having been detained two hours by fog.

CARGOES COMPLETED.—Herbert Black, [illegible], Anglo Norman and Spirit of the Dawn have completed their cargoes preparatory to departure for Astoria.

ARRIVED AT ASTORIA.—A dispatch from Astoria to the Merchants' Exchange, states that the British ship [illegible] arrived there from [illegible] at 10 o'clock A. M.

MAIL CLOSES.—Express mail (per steamer) closes to-night at 11 P. M. Parties having mail for that time must take it to the

THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

FIFTH DAY.

The Attendance Steadily Increasing—Many Visitors from Adjoining Towns—Musical Programme for To-day.

The attendance last night was larger than on any previous evening, the galleries being crowded, sometimes uncomfortably. Quite a number were present from the interior of the state, from eastern Oregon, and from the Sound, showing that the people throughout the northwest coast feel an interest in the fair second only to that felt by Portlanders. This promises to be a gala day. The managers having extended an invitation to the different schools of the city, asking each principal to select a day on which to bring the school children, they, after consultation, unanimously decided to visit this afternoon. The admission fee will be 10 cents, teachers free. The pupils will be required to come in a body accompanied by their teachers. Excellent programmes have been prepared by the Washington Guard Band, and by D. W. Prentice & Co., for afternoon and evening.

S. SHERLOCK

Occupies considerable space in the south gallery with a splendid stock of saddlery, harness, etc., most of it home made of the best material and finest finish, among which we notice coach, carriage, double and single buggy, truck and team harness, saddles of every description, including some of a miniature pattern, very neat and attractive.

W. Jackson & Co.

The display of China ware in the pavilion by W. Jackson & Co., although it shows samples of only one small department of their immense establishment, attracts much attention, especially from lady visitors, on account of the exceeding richness and novelty of design and the fine quality of the ware. A house of the magnitude of W. Jackson & Co., the only firm which receives direct importations of china and pays duty here on the same, deserves more than a passing notice, and a description of their store, No. 31 Front street, corner of Pine, will not be out of place.

They have received per recent arrivals direct from France a large stock of French china decorated dinner, tea and dessert sets, of the newest designs and finest quality manufactured. Very pleasing novelties are sets for after dinner coffee, in six delicate colors, individual cups and saucers and decorated fruit baskets. In French china the firm carries everything desirable that is to be had in foreign markets. One great advantage possessed by this house is that they keep a record of the numbers of all sets sold, and in case of breakage after they are in use the destroyed piece can be accurately replaced, direct from the factory, with the least possible delay.

In plated ware, the firm carries a large stock of castors, cake baskets, tea sets, standing and swinging ice pitchers, pickle stands, card receivers, spoon holders, syrup pitchers and stands, etc., of the celebrated Meriden Britannia Co.'s manufacture, and a full line of Rogers Bros.' spoons, forks and ladles of best quality.

In cut and pressed glassware, they carry an immense assortment from the best eastern factories. In lamps and chandeliers they have a full line of extension fixtures, in French, silver and Verdi bronze, of newest patterns, which, fitted up with Parkins & House's patent safety lamps, form handsome ornaments, and at the same time furnish the safest means of kerosene illumination.

In ironstone china, they keep a large stock, imported direct from the pottery of Edward Clark, Longport, England, which is sold by the crate or from open stock. Messrs. Jackson & Co also carry heavy stocks of illuminating and lubricating oils of all kinds, including the celebrated Star brand of kerosene, and their own Webfoot brand, both especially put up for family use. Their sales of oil to the trade are at all times large, but never as extensive as the present season.

In addition to the goods enumerated above, the firm deals largely in Seth Thomas clocks, wood and willow ware, paints, etc. Merchants visiting Portland will find W. Jackson & Co's one of the largest establishments on the north Pacific coast, and one of the very best from which selections can be made of everything in their line.

Shindler & Chadbourne's Display

Of furniture is the center of attraction in the gallery. It consists of furniture and carpets for two rooms. One contains a black walnut bedroom set, composed of a bedstead, dressing case and washstand. The bedstead, as well as the dressing case, is of the finest French walnut, with burl panels, inlaid with delicate oriental woods. The dressing case has a French plate mirror, and an ingenious extension for a writing desk. The other furniture in the same room is a magnificent ebonized and gilt patent rocker, upholstered in finest spun and raw silk, trimmed with silk velvet plush; also a Turkish divan of the same material as the rocker. The covering of the divan is one of the finest specimens of the upholsterer's art. The floor is covered with a rich body Brussels carpet, having a white ground with scarlet and black figures, shaded with light drab, all forming a pleasing, bright combination, and blending harmoniously with the elegant furniture. In front of the dressing case is a Smyrna rug, and under the rocker a Persian rug, both of unique design. The appearance of the room is enhanced by the bed being made up, with lace spread and pillow shams, the latter trimmed with blue satin bows and lined with blue satin. On the wall, suspended from a brass Eastlake cornice pole, hang a pair of elegant Nottingham lace curtains of handsome pattern.

The other room consists of dining room and library furniture. The principal piece is a sideboard and book case of entirely new design. The bedstead, dressing case, sideboard and book case are, without doubt, the handsomest pieces of furniture ever shown in Oregon. This room also contains a beautiful walnut Eastlake extension table trimmed with walnut burl, and tastefully carved; and two large easy chairs, and sofa of old English style upholstered in raw silk with plain plush border and chenille fringe. The floor is covered with a dark Brussels carpet of Eastlake pattern, in keeping with the furniture. In front of the sofa is a large Wilton velvet rug vividly representing a hunting scene. On the wall is a French plate mirror, and a pair of handsome raw silk curtains with dark maroon silk plush border, hanging from a black walnut cornice pole.

Their exhibit, like the goods they keep, is especially fine and attracts much notice from all who visit the fair. Altogether, it displays the rarest taste in design and the best skill in execution. Whatever of elegance is brought out in the line of furniture, all the newest and most tasteful designs this firm is certain to secure for their numerous patrons, at the earliest opportunity.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—The performance of Frou Frou last night reminded those present of some of the excellent performances given in this theater last season. It was by all odds the best performance given by the present company. To-night will be the last of the present company. In Frou Frou Miss [illegible] Drews appeared to very great advantage in the part with an amount of [illegible] that proves her a thorough understanding of the character [illegible] taste. Miss Osborn as Louise [illegible] ed her well, and in the scene [illegible] the third act did some fine acting [illegible] up to a splendid climax. Mr. [illegible] did the best piece of work we have ever seen him do on that stage, and he deserves credit, as having a very limited time to study the part. The other characters acquitted themselves better than we have seen them for some time. There will be a matinee this afternoon, and the last performance by this company takes place this evening.

On Monday evening the theater will be closed, as carpenters and scenic artists have to work night and day for the production of "Pinafore." Mr. Fred Lysler, one of the most experienced operatic managers in the country, and who got up three "Pinafore" companies in San Francisco, says he has better material in Portland than he had in San Francisco, and is sanguine of its being the greatest success when produced. The manager is determined that it shall be put on the stage in a first class manner, and Mr. Kinross has the chorus in hand, which is a guarantee that this department will come up to all expectations.

"How's Your Liver?"

The Oriental salutation would not be at all out of place in this country, nine tenths of the people being afflicted with torpidity of this organ. Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier is the great regulator. Try it!

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD HOGE HILL WINES.

Mr. Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox, government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report, that after ten years' of close investigation he can safely say that very few, if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines, that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm. Scheffler or Geo. H. Beach, St. Helena, Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

Forewarned Forearmed.

Physicians and invalids use with confidence The Kaiser Celebrated German Elixir for Consumption and throat and lung disease. It is rich in the medical properties of tar, wild cherry etc. Is rendered perfectly harmless to the youngest child. This would have proved an Angel of Mercy in the household of those unhappy parents at Vallejo, Dixon, Beaver, Utah and numerous other places, whose children were slaughtered by quack medicine recommended by its owner to cure croup, possessing no properties calculated to cure it, but instead a deadly drug which has slain its thousands. Be sure you get only German Elixir. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the fac-simile signature of Dr. Kaiser. Samples at all drug stores. Large size 75 cents.

Read and Learn for Yourself.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense in making them known to the people. This is not the case with BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Although but a few years introduced into this country, its sale now reaches to every town and village in the United States. Its wonderful success in curing consumption, severe Coughs, Pneumonia, Asthma and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 400 000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible. For sale by all dealers. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholesale agents.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

THE NORTHWEST.

The Willamette Valley

[illegible] Kelty has been appointed railroad agent at McCoy's station

Over 125 000 bushels have been hauled to McCoy for shipment this year

The state agricultural college is free from debt and has money in the treasury

Three thousand bushels of grain are received daily at Kinney's mill at Salem

Buena Vista correspondence We have stored in Buena Vista [illegible] 000 bushels of wheat to wit 58 000 in Mr J A [illegible] warehouse and 21 000 in Mr Churchill's Sacks are out calling for some 8 000 more

Mr J B V Butler died at his home in Monmouth Polk county on Saturday October 18 1879 aged [illegible] years and 1 month Mr Butler was born in New Hampshire September 18 1809 and had lived in Oregon since 1849

The Dallas Itemizer says of the new town of Derry, on Col Nesmith's place The location of this place is as good as that of any town in the county, being the center of an agricultural country that cannot be surpassed Col. Nesmith will soon have for sale several lots in the new town the site of which is on the west side of the road the land adjoining on the east having been deeded to the railroad company for warehouses etc The new town will no doubt soon grow to a place of considerable importance

There are four suits for damages to come up at the next term of circuit court which convenes at Albany next Monday F B [illegible] sues Dr D B Rice for $9000 on the ground of malpractice, James Sherrill demands $10 000 from the county for damages sustained by him by the breaking of a county bridge Montague & Cusick want damages from Sheriff Dickey, and B R Westfall is after Vincent Watson on the same tack There are 123 cases on the docket—the largest number ever known at one session in Linn county.

As Mr. James Hastings of Polk county was returning home from Perrydale on the 18th inst, having in his possession a considerable sum of money the proceeds of the sale of his wheat crop two men attempted to rob him, one jumping from either side of the road and grabbing at the bridle of his horse Only one succeeded in gaining a hold, and he was induced to let go suddenly by a well directed blow from a club which Mr Hastings had in his hand. After freeing himself from his assailants Mr Hastings put spurs to his horse and got out of their way

Sunday, October 19th, at 3 30 P M the first train crossed the La Creole The road will be completed to Independence to-morrow (the 26th) The Riverside referring to this, says "There is now a large quantity of wheat at the warehouses at the depot grounds ready for shipment, and the road could now be furnished with a large amount of freight and passenger traffic We learn from reliable parties that there is at least 200 000 bushels, and perhaps more than that amount of wheat, now stored in our town at least two thirds of which the warehousemen would be glad to ship by rail, provided it can be done at rates to correspond with river freights."

A lazy Chinaman, engaged on the west side extension, near Buena Vista upon being reprimanded last week for his idleness made an attempt to assault one of the overseers, when he was mildly slapped but still persisting in the attack he was knocked down with a shovel, at which the whole posse quit their work and made, with drawn shovels, for the man He endeavored to reach the fence, where they could not surround him, but before half way he was overtaken, and had it not been for a horseman at full speed dashing just at this moment amongst them and freely using a heavy bull whip, the man's injuries would have likely been fatal.

Suspicious looking blood-marks have recently been found at a residence near Independence which was lately occupied by H Taylor Hill. The Riverside, whose editor has visited the place, says, "A struggle evidently commenced near the fire place, at the south end of the house, and was continued through that room and an adjoining bedroom, culminating in a severe struggle near a window or opening in the outer wall of the house. At this point was found a large club on which were stains of blood, and some gray human hairs were found on the floor at this point. From this place the blood marks passed to the outer side of the wall, where all traces of it were lost. All appearances indicate that there has been a very savage fight, or something worse, and we think that an effort should be made to clear up the mystery."

A meeting of the Willamette Valley and Coast Railway Co, was held at Corvallis on the 15th inst. A report of the affairs of the company was presented and read by the secretary, B W. Wilson, after which the following gentlemen were elected as a board of directors: W. B Hamilton, Ashby Pierce, I R Henkle, M. Jacobs, Sol King, J M Currier, B W. Wilson, T E. Cauthorn and J Harris. During the past year there has been expended for the iron and rolling stock, and in connection therewith, the full sum of $35,-[illegible]. The company has also paid upwards of [illegible] on the ties purchased, etc, thus showing an expenditure, including various sums in current charges of upwards of $38 000 The receipts on the $35,000 subscription have only reached $29,815; interest, $974, total $30 [illegible], and the indebtedness to Col Hogg $7 [illegible]; to other parties, $2 308. But the company has not only all the railroad iron rolling stock and materials, and also the railroad ties, but has also still unpaid but in process of collection, $5385 on the $35 000 subscription.

The Norman Macleod cleared from Astoria on Tuesday for Liverpool, with 12 225 cases of salmon and 19,893 centals of wheat the whole valued at $93,796 50

The Astoria chamber of commerce is of the opinion that 4 o'clock A. M is too early for the departure of the mail boat from that city for Kalama, and thinks that the public would be better accommodated by a change in the schedule of the railroad, so that the boats could connect with the trains north without leaving Astoria so early.

The annual "fall races" of various Indian tribes of Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho are now in progress near Spokan Falls.

Spokan paper Wood choppers get one dollar per cord for cutting wood, single length, of from sixteen to twenty inches. It is delivered here in town at three dollars per cord, consisting of two cords of short wood

Lieut. Symmons is surveying the extension to the government reserve at Fort Cœur d'Alene. It will extend down almost to the little falls of the Spokan, and contain about fourteen square miles, lying on the eastern bank of the river and lake

Idaho.

Lewiston Teller The immense wheat crops raised this year in the counties north of this city are being carried to Almota and other parts below us along the Snake river This is because there has been no provision made in Lewiston for the reception of this wheat.

A few days ago at Lewiston upon the filing of an affidavit charging the murder of J P Rains on certain Indians then in charge of Lieut. Farrow, en route through Lewiston a warrant was issued by the U S commissioner for their arrest and placed in the hands of U S. Marshal Chase, who made a demand for these Indians, but the demand was refused.

Boise Statesman I W Garrett, who returned from the Wood river country this week informs us that there are between twenty-five and thirty land claims located in the valley of Wood river and about twelve dwellings already erected He learned that forty miles of the railroad had already been contracted and would probably be built during the coming winter and that it is the intention of the company to build to Wood river as early as next year as possible.

Jeff Davis Badly Used

[From the Cincinnati Commercial]

The ablest expositor of state rights in the country is Jefferson Davis Why was he not invited to Ohio to picture the enormity of federal bayonets and supervisors of elections? It is shabby in a party to fail to recognize a patriot that one of its representatives proposed to pension.

The English Markets

LIVERPOOL, Oct 24 —A leading grain circular says that the demand for wheat in the country markets is generally slack Millers having bought freely lately are inclined to hold off Previous prices however in most instances are fairly supported

Cargoes in all positions are lower at Liverpool and neighboring districts.

Since Tuesday business in wheat and corn has been of a retail character at somewhat easier figures. This morning's market was freely supplied with fresh imports of wheat and millers abstaining from large operations were able to supply their moderate requirements at reductions of from two pence to three pence from yesterday's rates

Corn was in slow request at three and one-half pence cheaper

Flour was also rather cheaper

Extracts from Testimonials to Professor John Murphy.

Mr John Murphy has been resident assistant master in this institution for several years He was transferred to my charge in August, 1858 with an excellent character I have found Mr Murphy faithful diligent painstaking and efficient as a teacher in Latin Greek and Mathematics I have found him a man of the most scrupulous integrity, of most affable intercourse of gentlemanly thought and Christian principle, and I shall be always rejoiced to hear of his prosperity etc etc

UNIVERSITY MOUND COLLEGE

San Francisco Oct 9 1877

Mr John Murphy M A., has been an instructor in this institution for nearly two sessions. He is a gentleman of high scholastic attainments having been a sizar and an honor man of Trinity college, Dublin. He has had large experience as a teacher both in the classical and English departments * * * * As the best proof of my confidence in him as a teacher I may state that he has been the tutor of my brother who is preparing for the University of Cambridge, England and that I am entirely satisfied with his work in this matter as well as in his classes. JOHN GAMBLE Principal

Mr John Murphy entered the University of Dublin in June 1855 * * * Among the students of the university generally his attainments as a scholar were always spoken of as of an unusually high order. As to his courses in art and theology though assistant teacher in the missionary college Ballinasloe for nearly the whole time, he succeeded notwithstanding in obtaining highly creditable marks at all his undergraduate examinations —ethical honors twice in succession in his senior year, and recommendation for the prize at the general examination of the junior divinity year His moral character and conduct during his entire university course were perfectly unexceptionable and exemplary and his steadiness industry and perseverance all that could be desired

WITH [illegible]

My coachman in the moonlight th
Looks through [illegible] delight [illegible]
I hear him with his threnode
As I could do but only more

Flattening his nose against the pa
He envies me my brilliant
Breathes on his aching fists in va
And dooms me to a place more

He sees me into supper go
A silken wonder by my side
Bare arms bare shoulders and a w
Of flounces for the door too w d

He thinks how happy is my arm
Neath its white gloved a
And wishes me some dreadful
Hearing the merry corks explod

Meanwhile I only curse the bore
Of hunting still the same old
And envy him outside the door
In golden quiets of the moon

The winter wind is not so cold
As the bright smile he sees me w
Nor the host's oldest wine so old
As our poor gabble sour and th

I envy him the ungyved prance
By which his freezing feet he warms
And drag my lady's chains and dance
The galley slave of dreary forms

O could he have my share of din
And I his quiet—past a doubt
Twould still be one man loved within
And just another bored without

JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG

He Reaches Philadelphia, where he Talks about Various Matters Connected with Gen Grant.

PHILADELPHIA Oct 8 —The Times of to day contains the following John Russell Young registered at the Continental Hotel last evening. He left San Francisco last Friday upon receiving the telegram announcing his father's death, and traveled hurriedly to pay the last tribute of respect to his memory stopping in Chicago between trains to see Colonel Grant and General Sheridan and coming here via Canada, through Detroit not passing in New York. In an interview with a Times reporter Mr Young chatted of course said he, in his old soft, persuasive tones Of course General Grant's reception in San Francisco was extraordinary but probably the most noticeable feature was the unanimity of all parties and all opinions in doing him honor. The demonstration by the large colony, so to speak, of ex-confederate soldiers who have settled in California as though by a common impulse was the most remarkable affair of the reception ceremonies and the democrats vied with those of the opposite party in making themselves conspicuous

General Grant did not wish to go out of his way to snub Kearny, as has been stated but when the "sand-lot orator" as you call him visited him the first time, General Grant not wishing to offend him, sent word to excuse him, as he was much engaged. Kearney however, not only persisted in calling twice but three times, and a fourth The General was then so vexed at the persistence of the man that he sent him word that he could not and would not see him Then Kearney attacked him on the sand lots to which Gen Grant remarked, "I would see any working man, or any man in California, but I will not see a ruffian."

The third term was a thing that Gen Grant never talked about It was never a subject of conversation. All this so called third term movement was unknown to us, because we had no consecutive news, only straggling items. Since May last the general rarely saw an American paper, being most of his time in middle China, Japan and India. The only thing about home matters that interested him then was the Nicaragua canal scheme Of this he heartily approved, and I myself sent, at his request, to Admiral Ammen, his dear friend, "I approve," by cable. If De Lesseps could build a canal by that route he hoped he would; but, says Gen. Grant, "He can't. Nature is against him. Again recurring to the third term subject, Mr. Young remarked in answer to the question whether Gen Grant had not been in constant correspondence with prominent politicians and other "boom organizers" for Grant "Anybody who knows Gen. Grant well enough would never think of writing to him about politics, because they would know that such a thing would be regarded as presumption He is a man who decides those things for himself He seemed to let go all cognizance of American affairs from the time he reached India. Therefore it is not at all surprising that either he or I should absolutely know nothing of this third term business."

NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUND.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN]

SEATTLE, Oct. 22

We have recently from the Skagit gold mines [illegible] the diggings still continues.

[illegible] Phelps & Wadleigh have received over [illegible] of cattle from Yakima during the past [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] has had a new blacksmith shop constructed on Second street, which he will run in connection with his old one.

Mr. [illegible] Brown's new paper, the resuscitated Puget Sound Dispatch, will make its appearance in [illegible] in about ten days.

The compensation of Puget Sound lighthouse keepers has been cut down from $1000 for principals to $800, and from $600 to $500 for assistants.

[illegible] hundred thousand feet of logs were recently sold at Priest's Point, at the mouth of the Snohomish, by an execution, for $2 25 and $3 25 per thousand—the lowest point reached

The work of developing the Port Townsend iron mine is soon to be commenced, it is reported on an extensive scale. Several prominent capitalists are understood to be interested in the enterprise

Salmon are now quite plentiful in the bay here [illegible] Indians, employed by Messrs. Levy & Wilson, caught in one evening recently at one haul [illegible] of their seine, averaging in weight 20 pounds a piece.

Mr. L. Diller, late proprietor of the City Market and formerly of Portland, has closed out his business. It is rumored that he will soon engage extensively in the pork and beef packing business in this city.

Subsidies Offered.

The Grant County News, realizing the necessity of starting industries of several kinds in that county, makes the following offers, and believes that if every man in the county will do likewise, great results will follow

We will give—as poor as we are—$75 to any man who will show enterprise enough to invest his means in a woolen factory in the John Day valley said $75 to be paid in installments. Twenty five dollars to be paid when the building is completed $25 in advertising to be done when called upon and when the machinery is put in operation

We will give $15 to any man that will start a pottery shop in the county and gives us the first well made jar, jug or crock. The News free for one year to any person that will find in this county and lay on our table clay suitable to make stone or pottery ware. The clay must be found in quantity such as will warrant a man to open a shop. Stone ware is worth from 75 cts to $1 25 per gallon here, and is made in the east for 2½ to 3 cts per gallon. We know whereof we speak

We will also give $10 to any man that will start a tannery in this valley, the money to be paid when leather is tanned suitable to make fine harness. We are here to stay and propose to see that no one shows more enterprise for the county than we, all according to our means.

Stuart Robson says that Bret Harte is not lazy, but slow, fastidious, self critical and large-eared. Even when Harte was a reporter on San Francisco newspapers, at hack work he would labor over a little paragraph for hours. While Harte was writing "Two Men of Sandy Bar," Robson and Barrett had hard work to keep him at his pen, and he would be two or three days fashioning a little speech

The principal commodity [illegible] the [illegible] times [illegible] have been a [illegible] secure [illegible] the English advance. The developments [illegible] settled the question whether the decline noticed near the close of last week was the result of the situation of the matter of supply and demand and therefore in a measure permanent or was caused by the manipulations of mere speculators and therefore liable to be turned in the opposite direction any day Until the appearance of the foreign markets indicates what is the true cause of the fluctuation dealers in this country will operate somewhat cautiously [illegible] of this day's [illegible] cargo of valley wheat ship [illegible] to last season although some fall below which the Walla Walla is above an average One cargo the Victoria Cross just finished of valley is said to average better than any complete cargo ever [illegible] from this port Prices to day have a range of $1 92½@1 95 per cental though holders are not inclined to sell on a large scale at anything less than $ a figure which by consideration will appear too large at present prices in England and freight rates. Flour is in fair supply with a hardening tendency in prices and a steady demand Standard brands are quotable at $ 6@6 per barrel and outside brands 75@50c lower

Oats are coming forward in ample quantities to meet the present demand which is not extensive Dealers for fair lots pay 40 cts per bushel sacked Dairy products are in fair supply at quotations and eggs which have sold during the week up to 37½ cts are quotable at 3 ½ cts to day owing to increase receipts Potatoes are still abundant and prices low Provisions are in better demand at slightly improved rates good bacon being 1 cent per lb higher than at last report
